

EO IPSO COMMUNICATIONS

Eo Ipsos Communications is a leading communications consultancy based in Berlin and Brussels. We specialise in strategic corporate communications, crisis management, political and financial communications. We advise C-level executives and senior communicators in international companies and organisations.

We are looking for an

Intern or working student in Communications and Public Affairs to work in our growing Berlin office. This role will involve:

- Supporting the team in its work for high-profile, international clients and our advocacy on behalf of clients in creative ways that resonate with decision-makers, stakeholders, journalists and on social media.

What We're Looking For

To succeed you'll need to be:

- A self-starter: We are looking for an ambitious candidate with first-rate analytical skills and intellectual acumen who is highly motivated, adaptable and calm under pressure;
- A strong communicator: We succeed by developing and implementing effective strategies for our clients. That's why we're looking for a candidate who can distil complex ideas into simple, but intellectually credible, arguments – both verbally and in writing; and
- A team player: The ideal candidate is a well-organised person with drive and integrity who enjoys collaborating with others to get the job done. The successful candidate consistently delivers work of the highest quality while paying attention to detail and meeting tight deadlines.

We are looking for a candidate with a degree in a relevant subject such as political science, media or communications from an internationally renowned university. Excellent command of German and fluency in English (our working languages) are essential.

EO IPSO COMMUNICATIONS

What we offer:

- High-profile, global clients including blue-chip companies, leading trade associations and government agencies;
- Fascinating, inspirational projects with an international dimension;
- A creative environment – no day is the same;
- A dynamic, international team that places a premium on a positive working environment – you would closely work with senior; communications professionals with long-standing experience and a real passion for communications; and
- An opportunity to develop your skills, advance your career and to grow with the company.
- The duration of this paid internship is three to six months; the office is located in an attractive location right in the heart of Berlin.

We look forward to hearing from you at careers@eoipsocommunications.com.
